GERMAN REICHSTAG HAS RATIFIED PACT OF LONDON

BITTER DEBATE PRECEDES ACT OF GERMAN OFFICIALS

BERLIN, Aug. 29.—The pact of London was ratified by the Reichstag. After a long and bitter debate the German government mustered 314 votes, more than the necessary two thirds majority, for all important railway laws, in the Dawes-Young program for reparations payments, and thereby accepted the whole arrangements. Other clauses of the program had already been accepted, and the new reparations program now awaits only the formal signatures which would be affixed by the interested powers at London tomorrow.

Dr. Jackson Agrees To Take A Ride In Pat's Wheel Barrow

Dr. R. B. Jackson is expected to call on L. S. Patterson Saturday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock, at which time the good old wheel barrow will be wheeled out of the store on East Commerce Street and the physician will be favored with a free ride up and down the principal business blocks of Mexia. Dr. Jackson has signified his willingness to take the ride and Mr. Patterson has given his word that he will do all he can to look after the safety of the passenger, despite the attack of lumbago with which he has been seized since election day. The event is to attract a big crowd. Much interest has been exhibited since Mr. Patterson agreed to ride him in case Mrs. Miriam Ferguson was nominated in the primaries of last Saturday.

PLANES PERFECT WHEN WEATHER CLEARS FOR HOP OFF

Aboard the U. S. S. Richmond, Aug. 29.—New engines of their giant planes tuned to perfection, the two American around the world aviators now are awaiting for favorable weather before hopping from Ivigtut, Greenland, for Indian Harbor.

It is probable the airmen will span the distance between the Island and North America tomorrow. They are now waiting arrival and passage of the gale which has swept up from the Maine coast. The storm spent its force here Thursday and proceeded northward. It probably will strike Ivigtut sometime today. In the calm after the terrific rain and wind has subsided, the airmen plan to strike out for Labrador.

Fair weathere is predicted along the Labrador coast today and the weateer report from the course which the fliers will follow is favorable for the flight. However, the fliers fear the weather at Ivigtut and late last night sent a message to Admiral Magruder saying the flight today had been definitely called off.

The larger companies paying the tax are Gulf Refining Company, 9,716,973 gallons, $97,169; Magnolia, 7,008,089 gallons, $70,080; the Texas Company, 6,800,930 gallons, $68,009; Pierce Petroleum, 3,184,000 gallons, $31,840; Humble, 1,625,554 gallons, $15,255; Cities Service, 1,410,670 gallons, $14,106.

Americans Go On Raving Because the Prince Can Smile

By CHARLES W. SUTTON.
(Written For The United Press)
(Copright By United Press)

ABOARD THE BERENGARIA, NEARING NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Eyes straining into the distance toward New York, the Prince of Wales stood at the rail on the upper deck of the Berengaria today impatient to set foot on American soil and rub elbows with the people of whom he has many pleasant memories.

The Prince was up comparatively early, despite the fact he did not go to bed until long past midnight and greeted friends with his usual cheery smile.

It is warm on the Berengaria last night and H. R. H. thought the ballroom too hot, so hewalked the deck with Lord and Lady Louise Mountbatten, singing songs to them.

He disappeared after a time but returned to the lounge at 2:15 a. m. and listened to Grace Larue, who was singing songs. The Prince was an appreciative listener and stayed until Miss Larue drifted away from the piano.

Wales seems to enjoy these informal occasions far more than any official function and falls into him his role of a regular fellow without effort.

The Prince is in the pink of condition thanks to his active life on shipboard. He walks with a springy step and his wonderful smile could spring only from a man with sound nerves and sturdy good health.

The Prince of Wales smile in fact, has become the talk of Americans on the ship.

"It's nothing short of wonderful," a wonderful passenger said. "Of course we all love him."

Wales has amazed the Americans by his activity outdoing the best of them. He usually is out by 8 a. m. despite the fact he often does not retire before 3 and has joined in every activity on the ship from boxing to learned discussions on political and social problems.

All this has pleased the Americans immensely.

Yesterday evening the Prince received his brother Free Masons from the second class and chatted with them for some time. Later he presented a decoration to First Officer W. Poole.

E. R. H. went down in the engine rooms yesterday morning. Cald in a thick sweater, despite the high temperatures near the boilers. He was soon steaming with perspiration but paid no attention to that, walking tbrough every section and talking with the men.

Wales had a long discussion on refrigeration engineering with John Reid, the engineers in charge and then talked with Firemen John Leigh.

Leigh asked how the Prince liked te ship and Wales wiped perspiration from his brow as he replied:

All the "black gang," as the sailors call the engine room force was greatly impressed with the visit.

"A regular fellow and not a bit of swnk," One fireman voted, while "You know he's a bit of all right, another thought out his description: for he speaks to you just the same whether you have on a clean suit or a dirty one."

The Prince ttended the boxing matches in the afternoon, laughing heartily at a battle royal where blindfolded youngsters were hammering away at one another. He went swimming before dinner and regretted it might be his last plunge before leaving the Berengaria.

As the big liner neared New York today the Prince described the voyage as a tremendous success," nd said he may return to England on her.

He is looking forward to just one thing today, however and that is "seeing my American friends again."

Mrs. Geo. Peyton was hostess to a "Movie" party Tuesday afternoon, honoring her guest Mrs. Walter Pruitt of Itasca, and Miss Clara Parson of Waco. The following ldies being in the prty, Mrs. E. M. Strange, Mrs. Cecil White, Mrs. Leslie Strange, Mrs. Jno. Sweatt, Mrs. Horace Stevens, Mrs. J. K. Hughes, Mrs. F. P. Hutchingson, Mrs. Oscar Denning and the two honorees.

THERE IS HOPE FOR THE DEMOCRATS OF TEXAS SAYS JIM RERGUSON REPLYING TO ATTACK OF THOS. B. LOVE

TEMPLE, Texas, Aug. 29.—"Praise God from whom all blessings flow. There is hope for the Democrats of Texas."

This was the comment of former Governor James E. Ferguson here today upon the attack of Thomas B. Love against the candidacy of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, his wife, and Love's withdrawal as democratic national committeeman from Texas.

"The attack upon my wife's candidacy, secured in an entirely legitimate manner, is due to personal animosity against me", the former governor declared. Ferguson refused to comment further, saying he would probably issue a statement later to that of the retiring national committeeman.

"FORGET IT" PARTY TO REMEMBER AND PLAN FOR AUSTIN CONVENTION; 20,000 EXPECTED AT BIG RALLY

TEMPLE, Texas, Aug. 29.—Temple is making preparations to entertain 20,000 democrats from all parts of the state tonight in a monster ratification and "forget it" rally for Mrs. Miriam Ferguson. Mrs. Ferguson will be the first speaker on the program. "Farmer Jim" and Barry Miller, nominee for lieutenant governor are also on the program. Many of the leaders will remain over for a caucus Saturday, when preliminaries for the state convention at Austin next Tuesday will be worked out.

It is expected that several Limestone County citizens will attend the "Forget It Party" to be held in Temple tonight. However, none from here has signified his intention to be there on that occasion.

Special trains will run from Dallas to Temple for the occasion and hundreds of admirers will be there to jollify with "Ma" and "Pa Too," following the landslide of votes last Saturday in her favor in the gubernatorial campaign.

Mrs. Ferguson has indicated that she will deliver a brief address and Jim Ferguson will also be the feature speaker on the program.

Killers' Lawyers Plan New Fight

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—If Chief Justice John R. Caverly imposes the death sentence on Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold for their murder of Bobby Franks, the defense will start a new fight to save the youths from death, it was reevaled today. Preliminary plans are being made now.

The State's Attorney's office also is completing plans to ward off the case in the event of a death sentence.

There are three methods for the defense to stage a fight to snatch the youths from the gallows. Samuel Ettleson, for seven years corporation counsel for Chicago and personal counsel for Jacob Franks, father of the little victim, explained to the United Press.

1. The defense can ask for a jury to pass on the samity of the youths on the grounds that they have become insane during or since the trial and sentence.

2. Appeal to the State Supreme Court to set aside the ruling of the lower court on the grounds of error.

3 Appeal to the governor for commutation of sentence.

State's Attorney Crowe said if Judge Caverly orders life in jail for the boys the State could do nothing about it.

THE LONE STAR SERIES

By HECK

Sure looks like I am forced to change my figures and my pick of the winner of the Lone Star Series now that the Tyler Trojans have walloped our Oilers two straight games which gives Kitchen's crew a decided advantage of the series. I watched the game Thursday from the scorers box and I want to make it plain that Tyler has a real ball club and what is more they are playing a brand of baseball that we did not see in the Texas Association the past season. Naturally the Trojans looked good because they were the winners and the winning ball club always looks better than the losing side but Kitchens and Jackson have the Tyler club playing the finest brand of "heads up" baseball that I have had the pleasure of seeing in class D. The Oilers had many opportunities to win Thursday but the necessary base hit was minus or some over zealous Oiler would get trapped by the foxy Trojan defense and that was many times. Kitchens has three pitchers working on the side lines through out the game and he changes pitchers without waiting for any damage to be done and in this manner keeps the Oilers batting against fresh and new pitching which counts heavily in a short series of this kind. Lefty Yowell, the Trojans star moundsman, opened the game yesterday and while a bit wild had a world of stuff but after being nicked for four blows in the fourth he was replaced by Andrews a right hander with a splendid curve and control who went along in great style until the ninth when the first Oiler batsman hit for two bases. Here Kitchens showed his plan of play when he pulled Andrews for Porter, another right hander who had a great curve, control and blinding speed and he stopped the Oilers before they could start a rally and the game was won. Byers, the Oiler's catcher, threw away a scoring chance in the eighth frame when he was caught off second by a great throw from Donaldson, the Trojan left fielder and again in the ninth with two runners on the bases and one out Longnecker, the Trojan shortstop, leaped high into the air and pulled down Malmquist's drive and doubled Thornton off second. They tell me that this boy Longnecker makes lots of errors and I guess he does but he covers every play between third base and center field and pulls the hard and brilliant plays that stops a rally and ruins many a batting average. The Trojans are a hard hitting club and their record in this respect is not overdrawn and along with their hitting power they are fast as sure base runners.

oJe Cantrell deserved to win Thursday's game and had his mates used better judgment of the bases the result would have been in his favor. The Oilers played the same sterling brand of baseball in the field that was expected of them and in this respect they are much better than the Trojans and while Grubb, Sain and Malquist are not of the brilliant and flashy kind like Williams, Longnecker and Allen, the Oiler trio is steadier and are at their best in the pinches. Old George Jackson plays rings around Thornton, the Oiler first baseman and in his work at first base the Trojans have a decided advantage. The Trojan style of play at first base is the best I have seen in class D in that Jackson plays wide and deep from the back and the pitchers take a great number of plays for the putouts at first base and this gives Jackson the opportunity to ruin those base hits that so often filter between second and first bases. The Trojans fight like wildcats when they are on the defensive, their entire infield shifts about on each play and every base is backed up by at least two players on throws to bases and on throws from the outfield to the plate Kitchens stands on the plate while the first and third basemen and pitcher come in to protect the wide throw and this one plan of play kept the Oilers from one and perhaps two runs in Thursday's game. After watching the two clubs in action I consider them evenly matched in fielding with Tyler getting the breaks in the two games played. The Oilers are due to win and when they do they will be just as hard to head as the Trojans are now and I look for Munns to win Saturday's game at Tyler and Crockett to give some one a grand battle Sunday. The umpiring in Thursday's game was perfection in every detail and while the Oiler fans razzed Charlie Johnson for his work on balls and strikes his work looked good from the scorers box and the work of the base umpires was never questioned throughout the game. The Oilers should win at least one game at Tyler and thus come back to Corsicana ready to battle the enemy to the finish and in this respect the Oilers are the better club as they have proved that they can come back and win after a losing streak.

Cotton is coming in rapidly at present and local gins are running until a late hour at night. Mexia expects as many bales this year as last, it is understood.

The Lawrence Hearn home on the corner of Canton and Hopkins street has been completed and is now one of the most imposing and beautiful homes in Mexia.

AMERICANS ARE TO SUFFER IF CIVIL WAR STARTS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—The cabinet went into executive session with President Coolidge to consider the growing gravity of the Chinese civil situation. Secretary of State Hughes is understood to have presented reports from American representtives in China that war is threatening in Shanghai, Nanking section of China, where there are many Americans. American business is suffering, due to the tie-up of the Shanghai-Peking railway, on account of the trouble.

BULLETIN:
By B. C. BESS.

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SHANGHAI, Aug. 29.—Threats of civil war between rival Chinese leaders grew to serious proportions today.

Gen. Wu Pei Fu, leading one of the factions, announced that he has employed a squadron of airplanes piloted by American and British aviators and that the machines will leave Shanghai for the front during the day.

Meantime Gen. Lu, rival war lord, was doing his utmost to recruit other British and American pilots and it was generally believed airplanes may prove a decisive factor in ehe fighting believed to be imminent.

There had been no actual fighting between the rival armies up to this morning, but travelers arriving from Quinsan where the troops are separated only by a narrow line along the railway, said that hostilities could not long be postponed.

The actual battle line, it was indicated, will be within thirty miles of Shanghai and both leaders will make every effort to gain control of the city.

It is not believed the foreign colony is in danger, however, as a number of British, American and Japanese warships are in the harbor.

One thousand Russians most of them World War veterans, have been enlisted in the Shanghai-Che-Kiang army.

The foreign and Chinese Chamber of Commerce both have brought all pressure to bear to restore peace and today sent envoys to the rival war lords urging them again to attempt to reach an agreement.

American steamers have been warned by Chinese forts that the outbreak of hostilities is imminent.

Martial law was proclaimed yesterday and a censorship established.

Additional American and British warships have been summoned from Chefoo, as it is considered almost certin there will be fighting in the city. There are more than sixty thousand throops in the Quin San District, 30 miles out of Shanghai.

The foreign and Chinese chambers of commerce met together for the first time in history yesterday to plan protection of the city and devise a scheme for creation of a neutral zone.

Thousands of Chinese already are fleeing into the country.

Fleets of the rival leaders both are steaming toward Shanghai one from Foo Chow and one from Nanking. It is believed there may be a naval engagement during the day.

Prince Of Wales Reaches The U. S.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Officially and unofficially welcomed in messages from land, sea and air, the Prince of Wales reached America. The first official word of welcome was wired from President Coolidge an dropped from an airplane as the Berengaria nosed her way into quarantine. A public welcome was impossible as the prince, after acknowledging the official welcomes, arranged to ssume an unofficial holiday and went without ceremony to Long Island in a private launch.

LOVE STATES HE CAN NOT SUPPORT FERGUSON FOR GOVERNOR AND QUITS POST AS NATIONAL COMMITTEEMAN

That he does not intend to support Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson in the November election, but that he hopes to be able to support for Governor "some able, honest and incorruptible Texan running as an independent Democrat," are declarations contained in a statement issued Thursday by the Hon. Thomas B. Love of Dallas, Democratic national committeeman from Texas.

Mr. Love also said that during the last few days it had been suggested that he ought to resign his place on the national committee of the party, and added:

"In view of the course which, as an honest man, existing conditions compel me to follow, I am constrained to agree with the propriety of this suggestion. I was elected Democratic national committeeman by the Democratic State convention at Waco for a term of four years and no vacancy can be created in that position during that period except by my resignation, but I believe it to be my duty to vacate the position in view of my inability to support the Democratic nominee for Governor of the State, and I have done so by forwarding my resignation to Chairman Shaver of the Democratic National Committee."

Text of Statement.

Mr. Love's statement in full follows:

I do not intend to support the Ferguson candidacy for Governor in the November election. As a matter of law, I do not believe the Democratic nominee is eligible under our Constitution, but, regardless of that, I can not accept the conviction that it is the duty of every good citizen, regardless of all consideration of party regularity and of all other considerations, to leave nothing undone that legitimately may be done to prevent the restoration of Fergusonism to power in the State Capitol at Austin.

For thirty-five years I have served the Democratic party and so far as honors or seeking political gain is concerned I have served it unselfishly. While I have never sought an office that I did not get, I have never held one that did not involve distinct personal sacrifice. In all that time I have never placed a pencil mark on a Democratic ballot and I have never hesitated to make any sacrifice within my power to promote party success. I have always put country above party. I have cherished the Democratic party solely because I considered it as a blessed God given opportunity through which the good citizens might serve the country. But, if I placed party welfare above the public good, even from that viewpoint I would not hesitate for a moment to follow the course I have determined upon in this campaign, for I am sure that Texas Democrats can render no more effective party service than by fighting Fergusonism to the death, even as our national standard bearer is fighting Fallism to the death.

I earnestly and whole heartedly desire the success in the national campaign of Davis and Bryan. I am glad that there is no doubt of their carrying Texas in November by an overwhelming majority. They are real Democrats, fearless, clean-minded champions of honesty in public office, of prohibition and woman suffrage and of progressive Democracy—of all those things which Fergusonism, while in power opposed. As a Texas Democrat, I am proud that the Texas delegation helped to nominate them in the New York convention. I shall also earnestly and heartily support each and every candidate upon the Democratic State congressional and local tickets, except the candidate for Governor.

For Governor, I earnestly hope to be able to support some able, honest and incorruptible Texan running as an independent Democrat whose character and known capacities and disposition for public service will attract the support of each citizen of Texas, who is opposed to all that Fergusonism stands for, regardless of party or creed, and whose opposition to the Ku Klux Klan is wholly beyond question, so that that issue will no longer complicate the situation. However, regardless of party alignments, present or past, I shall not hesitate to support any candidate on any ticket, or if his name has to be written on the ticket, who is worthy and qualified, whose candidacy in my best judgment offers the best assurance of keeping the banner of Fergusonism off the battlements of the State Capitol at Austin.

We have it from the leading newspapers of the Nation, including The Dallas News, that the Ku Klux Klan is dead as a result of last Saturday's primaries, and personally I can have no doubt that the people of Texas will never again witness a candidacy for any State office proposed and sponsored by the Ku Klux Klan. Many thousands Texans, among them many of the best personal and political friends I have, have sincerely believed that this klan menace was more dangerous even than Fergusonism. While I have outspokenly opposed the klan from the beginning, my own belief has been that Ferguson was ten times a greater menace than ku kluxism. Whatever may have been right, happily the danger of ku klux domination of the State Government, if it ever existed, is now gone. It remains for all good citizens, forgetting the past, to unite in destroying Fergusonism.

In this cause the good citizen who voted for Ferguson to destroy ku kluxism in last Saturday's primaries can join hands and fight shoulder to shoulder to save the good name of Texas, with the good citizen who voted for Robertson to destroy Fergusonism.

Not Bound by Pledge.

No man or woman is bound to support any party nominee whose election he believes would endanger the public welfare. The precedents supporting this proposition are too numerous to leave room for doubt as to its soundness. It is only necessary to mention the fact that thousands of those who supported the Ferguson candidacy in last Saturday's primaries, including many of the leaders for Ferguson in the fight, in 1922 refused to support the Democratic nominee for United States Senator chosen by the primaries in which they had participated as notoriously did Jim Ferguson himself because they believed that his election would endanger the public welfare. I thought then and think now that in their premises they were wrong, but I never found fault with them or criticised them for voting against a candidate whose election they believed would be dangerous to the public welfare without regard to consideration of party regularity and the party pledges they had made. Believing as they did, they were unquestionably right in the position they took as were the great newspapers of the State which followed the same course.

During the last few days it has been suggested that I ought to resign as Democratic national committee man from Texas and in view of the course which, as an honest man, existing conditions compel me to follow, I am constrained to agree with the propriety of this suggestion, I was elected Democratic national committeeman by the Democratic State convention at Waco for a term of four years and no vacancy can be created in that position during that period except by my resignation, but I believe it to be my duty to vacate the position in view of my inability to support the Democratic nominee for Governor of the State, and I have done so by forwarding my resignation to Chairman Shaver of the Democratic National Committee.

I am grateful for the privilege I have enjoyed of representing the Democracy of Texas on the Democratic National Committee for the last five years, and I am glad of the opportunity now as a private in the ranks to fight for the good name of Texas to the extent of my humble ability.

THOMAS B. LOVE.

STANDING

Tyler	2	2	0	1,000
Corsicana	2	0	2	.000

CORSICANA, Texas, Aug. 28.—Tyler holds a commanding lead in the Lone Star series after taking the second straight game from the Corsicana champions of the Texas Association on their own grounds. Thursday's 5 to 3 victory was again the product of the healthy home run bat, Najo and Donaldson hitting for the circuit for the victors, while Lovelace got his second in two days for Corsicana. Five pitchers were used by the two clubs. Corsicana outhit Tyler, but four of the six Trojan blows were for extra bases.

Poor Base Running Costly

Poor base running by the Corsicana Oilers, smarter baseball by the Trojans and brilliant defense in the pinches enabled the proteges of Manager Kitchens of the East Texas champions to humiliate the Oilers. With the loss of the game, the hopes of the Oilers for the all-Texas pennant took a decided slump and the hopes of four straight victories by the Trojans is entertained in the East Texas city.

Son Barrett of Corsicana played a whale of a game, but Manager Kitchens demonstrated that he is the premiere Class D manager of Texas by the manner in which he ran his club.

The Oilers had two or three chances to win the game, but they were plucked off the bases like peaches from an East Texas tree by the Trojans.

Two Double Plays Help

Two sensational double plays aided the Trojan cause.

In the fifth inning, Barrett was plucked off first base by Andrews with only one out. Lovelace had opened the inning by driving out his home run, and Barrett had connected with long single. In the ninth inning, Longnecker caught a terrific drive and doubled Byers off at second in a sensational play. Longnecker played the best game of the entire two clubs.

The two teams will have an off day Friday and the scene of hostilities will be shifted to the East Texas city Saturday in the first of two games there. It is probable that Manager Vann will send Crockett against the Trojans in the first game. Crockett was sold to San Francisco a few days ago.

C. E. Johnson umpired at the plate, Ollie Anderson cared for first. L. H. Johnston guarded second base and Fred Robins was the authority at third.

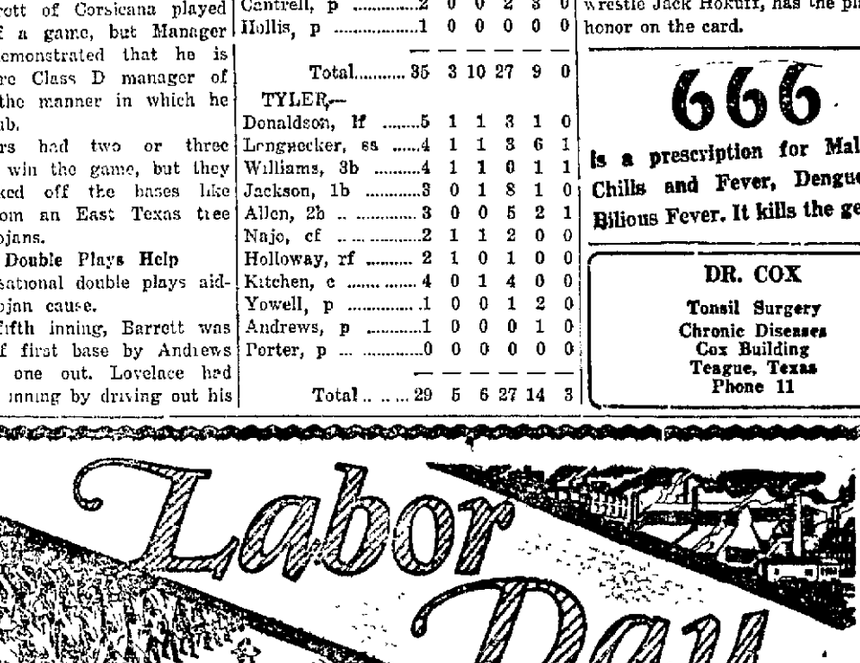
SINCE 1882—THE OLD RELIABLE



2567 Families

SOME years ago one of the Government Bureaus prepared figures showing the average yearly consumption of food by 2,567 families and what they paid for it. The data covering three of the important food items are given in the first three columns below; and to this we have added, in the right-hand column, the number of calories or energy units contained in one dollar's worth of each of these three foods at the cost indicated.

Food	Pounds per year	Cost	Calories for $1.00
Sugar	268.5	$15.76	30,921
Butter	117.1	28.76	14,214
Fresh Beef	349.	50.05	6,903

Prices have changed, but these figures emphasize the high food values of sugar in relation to its cost, and the economy in giving it an important place on your table. The best to buy is

Whole Family Endorses Tanlac As Best Tonic

"Tanlac has been our constant friend for years, and my wife and myself and eight children are all enjoying wonderful health, largely due to this medicine," is the remarkable statement of Harry H. Pistole, 310 Archer St., Waco, Texas.

"In my own case Tanlac has done what seemed to be impossible. When I began taking it my stomach was in such a bad fix that I had to live on a milk and egg diet and I was almost a skeleton, I had been flat of my back in bed and under treatment for 18 months and felt that my time was about up.

"After my case had been given up as hopeless and I thought I was beyond redemption a relative put me onto Tanlac, and the result is, I gained 20 pounds, and enjoy as good health as anybody could wish.

"My wife was all broken down in health. But now she weighs 155 pounds, and is strong and well and I am giving Tanlac credit for it. We give Tanlac to the children to tone them up and make them grow, and nobody ever had a healthier set of children than we have.

"Tanlac is certainly the greatest medicine on earth for anyone whose life is wrecked by bad health. We sure do have a great deal to praise Tanlac for at my house."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

Tanlac Vegetable Pills, for Constipation; made and recommended by the manufacturers of Tanlac.—(Adv.)

Eubanks Delivers Address At Meet Of Rotary Heads

At the conference of Rotarian offi. cials held in Forth Worth Thursday and Friday of this week, A. Hardy Eubanks, President of the Mexia Rotary Club, discussed the proper use of the emblem and the affect of Rotary on International Business. His address was well received. It follows:

Mr. Chairman and Fellow Rotarians:

I have been requested to talk to you today upon a subject that should be, and doubtless is, of greatest interest to you all.

I am sorry, indeed, that I am not bettter equiped with learned phrases and analytical argument that I might better bring to your notice the wonderful meaning that is encompased with the three short words of our motto.

"SERVICE ABOVE SELF." What a story those three words tell to those who realize their meaning. I have never heard a phrase or a motto, or a slogan that appeared to tell the whole story of life's greatest aim, as applied to ethical business methods, as those words tell it.

They are full of good, and they are capable of being translated into helpfulness to every person in every walk of life, engaged in every business activity.

That motto stands for truth, for the humanities, for progress and everything else that means emancipation from the thrall of selfishness and envy and the petty jealousies of business life.

It is, therefore, both proper and desirable that the subject you have chosen for me to talk upon today be discussed among ourselves, lest in our efforts to propagate our ideals, we commercialize our motto, our slogans and our principles.

Rotary was not organized for the purpose alone of getting business. It was not discovered for the purpose of fostering clannishness in a business way, and neither was it made to grow with a view to selfishness that would redound to the benefit of its order alone. Rotary is as high in its principles as the sky above, and as broad as the universe, and as full of love for humanity as Heaven itself.

Rotary is big enough in its principles to take in every business activity in the world, and its mottoes are as applicable to those businesses outside the order as it is to those represented by its membership.

Just how far we, as members of Rotary, should go in advertising by emblems, as evidenced upon our stationery, our store doors, and on our automobiles, is a question that to my mind needs careful consideration. On the other hand, as to how far we should go in applying the real underlying principles of our organization on to our business activities and individual dealings with each other, in my opinion there is no limit.

The foundation of Rotary was placed solidly and upon a high plane. It was placed there so that those, and only those with the very highest regards for its ethical code would be attracted by it and would be eligible to its membership. Therefore, any action upon the part of any member to commercialize unduly his connection with this great organization, to the exclusion of its true ideals should not only be discouraged but unquestionably condemned.

I do not mean by this to say that we, as members, should be afraid to show our colors, or that we should feel a hesitancy in approaching each other in a business deal, for fear that our meaning be misunderstood.

I believe that it is not only right, but desirable, to foster and encourage the spirit that breeds confidence in each other. I believe that it is eminently proper and ethical to place upon our windows a modest, but plainly visible emblem of our order, (the greatest of its kind in the world).

When, as a stranger, we drop into a town, there is nothing quite so assuring as our emblem standing forth in its significant beauty upon the front of some successful business. It says to us who know it "welcome," we are mighty glad to see you." Come in make yourself at home and what can we do for you."

While I do not, as I have said before, believe that we should commercialize our emblem, I DO believe that it is eminently fitting that we should encourage and welcome any business that may come to us through our association with Rotary.

I say with pride that I have been benefited in many business deals. I honestly believe, through the fact that my connection with Rotary, and reverence for its Code of Ethics, has placed me favorably before those with whom it has been my pleasure to deal. He who would take undue advantage of a fellow business man, either in or out of our organization, is not a true Rotarian,

I personally am never affronted at the use of an emblem by a brother Rotarian upon his stationery, but I do not use it and do not think that much good can come from it. Since a great deal of correspondence is of promiscuous nature, and goes to so many non-members, I believe that the indiscriminate use of the emblem upon stationery seems to leave the impression that we are bidding our insignia to the world for its notice.

This is precisely what we wish to avoid. Rotarians should be brought to notice for WHAT THEY DO and any incidental business that is thus brought to them should be welcomed.

I take the position that our connection with Rotary should in no wise entitle us to the assumption that we are the superiors of others who do not belong. I take no airs upon myself for being a Rotarian, though I am very proud to be one. I do not consider membership in our Club to be a social aim to be fought for as a business prize. I take it as a special privilege that must be paid for by strict adherence to its principles, and the amount of service rendered.

Therefore, any act of unseemliness, anything that would belittle the order in the public's eye, is to be condemned, for just so long as we keep our organization membership up to the original standard of requirements, it will continue to rgow.

The man who keeps shouting from the housetops in print and pictures that I AM A ROTARIAN, and does nothing else to prove it is a detriment to this order. But the man who takes a proper modest pride in his membership and guards it by right deportment so that he is noticed of all with whom he comes in contact, is absolutely entitled to all business that is brought to him through the channels of Rotary, and should feel no tinge of shame in taking it.

When I read about the splendid spirit which prompted the idea of our organization, and when I read and learn how in such a few short years it has penetrated into every activity in the remotest parts of the world, I feel a sort of pride in my membership that nothing else gives me.

I feel that eventually through Rotary such a spirit of friendship may be built up that it will be large factor toward universal peace between all nations. Every day the question of international commerce becomes more complex. Less and less do we live alone. In fostering closer business relations between leading business men in every line the world over, Rotary goes a long way in establishing a feeling of universal neighborliness. For this reason then, I would say that the utmost care should be used in the display of our emblems and use of our slogans and mottoes. We do not want to leave the impression that we hold them so lightly that we would barter them.

We, as a cog in our wonderful wheel, should feel eager to be known as a part of the world's greatest organization of the kind. We should be eager to spread the propaganda of "Service Above Self" where we go, but we should always do it in such a manner as would never reflect upon our great order nor leave the impression that because of our connection with Rotary we are, or assume to be, in any way superior to those who do not belong.

All the world is watching Rotary. Secretly every business man is emulating our example, though many would not admit this, so that when the time comes he too, may become one of us.

I do not say this in a spirit of braggadocio. Our example appeals to all high class men in business and it is but natural that they should be drawn to us.

The very moment though that our order permits commercialization of its emblems, its slogans, or its mottoes by consenting to the exploiting of them promiscuously by too aggressive advertising, just then will our influence begin to wane and our organization to lose its prestige. I thank you.

Mrs. Barbara C. Rutherfurd C. Hatch, daughter of Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, of New York, has followed the example of her sister, the former Mrs. Ogden L. "Oom," once exposed as a former Chicago barber, is known to his followers as "the Loving Guru." His club is in Upper Nyack, N. Y. Mrs. Nichols' sister, the former Mrs. Mills, married Sir Paul Dukes, another member of the cult.

Manuel Quezon, President of the Filipino Senate, has arrived in Geneva, Switzerland, to ask the League of Nations to admit the Philippines to membership. Quezon is leader of the Filipino independence movement. John Ellis, England's famous hangman, who suffered a nervous breakdown as soon as he quit hanging people last March, has been found in Rochdale, Eng., shot in the neck, with a revolver beside him. He will recover. Ellis hanged 200 persons, and quit after hanging Mrs. Edith Thompson, a murderess. He hanged Sir Roger Casement for treason during the World War. John A. Stewart, New York financier and broker, has just celebrated his 102d birthday. When he was born there were no railroads. Society has lost its fascination for Mrs. George W. Vanderbilt, who has retired to her famous estate at Biltmore, N. C., to engage in the dairy business, personally supervising the care of her 300 head of blooded cattle. "I'm just a plain farm woman," she declares.

"For Mexia, I WILL"

FAITH IN THE UNIVERSAL SOVEREIGN

Texas has just passed through one of the hardest fought political battles in all her history. After the din of the bitter tumult has died away and while men and women are mobolizing their plans and their purposes to build a greater state, our citizens must continue to let wisdom direct their feet in the paths of duty.

As to the question of natural personal rights, no rule can be set forth other than that of the Golden Rule. Texans feel and the Decalogue teaches them that they have certain rights with reference to other men which ought to be respected.

The merits of party controversies are not always decided at polls anymore than the merits of national difficulties and differences are settled on the gory fields of war. Men must do the best they can, remembering always and at all times that there is yet a God who governs, and Christianity and civilization are saved from the power and number of Infidelity and Paganism by measures and movements unseen to us; and that the general history of the world containing the history of contests between and among parties which have eventuated in the ultimate success of the good over the bad, is an evidence of the truth of Divine Providence.

"Present success is no touchstone to determine which nation is right in battle. The first Napoleon said God was on the side of the best guns."

Napoleon was wrong if he meant to say that God was on the side that won the victory. He was usually triumphant and thought he could defy God. He would have done better to have waited till the hour of death in his exile.

Men have been known to change their politics to be on the successful side. This was evident in the day of Napoleon. A French editor of the Paris Moniteur recorded the progress of Napoleon from Elba to Paris as follows:

"The anthropophagist has escaped." "The Corsican Orge has landed." "The tiger is coming." "The monster has slept at Grenoble." "The tyrant has arrived at Lyons," "The usurper has been seen in the environs of Paris," "Bonaparte advances toward, but will never enter the capital." Then when Napoleon was in the shadow of the city, the editor changed his editorial tactics, cut out all his epithets that he had been hurling as a sort of defy in his face and wrote "Napoleon will be under our ramparts tomorrow" and then recorded his advent under "His Imperial Majesty entered the Tuileries on the 21st of March in the midst of his faithful subjects."

In this hour, at the conclusion of a political upheaval in Texas, let every man and woman, whether on the winning or losing side, resolve here and now to be better citizens in the future than they have in the past, pinning a greater faith than ever in Him of Whom it is said on our coins "In God We Trust," with a firm conviction all the while that there is no such thing in human history and human progress as chance. All events, as all the Universe moves along the pathway of one intelligent design and no dispensation of Providence moves at random.

It is inspiring to see a citizen standing among what appears to be clashing discords and sweeping contradictions, calm and confident, with a forward look in his eye and love for his fellow man and his great state tempering every thought and softening every utterances.

"Revolutions may rage; nations may tear into shreds existing governments, and out of the fragments weave new ones; the chariot of God's providence with its whirlwind, clouds and fires may roll over the plains and mountain tops, shake the world and shiver the foundatins of all human institutions; yet his towering faith raises its head into eternal sunshine, grasps the hand of God, and leans against the celestial throne. His brightest hopes may lie dismantled at his feet—every golden thread dissevered, yet though a tear trembles down his cheek, he lifts his eye to heaven and says, "It is all for the best." Creation careening may topple its planets into chaos, and the grand old arches of the universe may come crashing down, the roar of its fragments astounding hell into frightened silence; yet his faith lies as unshaken as the Mount of God upon which his Father sits a universal sovereign in the Heaven of Heavens."

OUR TOO MANY MURDERS

Congressman Luther Johnson stated before the Rotarians Thursday that in England defendants in criminal cases are usually found guilty while in America they are usually found innocent. The results of such decisions are detrimental to society generally. Andrew D. White is quoted as saying that there are 10,000 people in America alive today who will be murdered this year.

In the past few years, Limestone and Freestone counties have seen a low estimate placed on human life and there have been murders in large number. Human life is endangered as a result. Yet when have you read of the extreme penalty being given for murder in these counties?

In ten years, it is asserted, more Americans have been murdered than were killed in action or died of wounds in both army and navy in our two years in the World War.

As to accidents, if you want to call them that, it has been announced that during the first six months of this year 810 Americans were killed by automobiles.

Our homicide record is a very striking and deplorable one. Fortunately not all the killings are as deplorable as others.

There is one class in which belong such detestable crime as the killing of the tourist in the camp at West Liberty, the boy Franks in Chicago, and the double murder at Low Mor that is just now in the news dispatches again; and there is another class such as the killings growing out of the racial and political feuds in Chicago and the clashes of rum-runners there.

In the former classification, the public has the right to complete protection against killers, both by the maintenance of efficient police forces and by the prompt and firm administration of justice in our courts.

But in the latter cases it is merely one gun-man killing another, and it is small loss which is killed; in fact, innocent bystanders are safer when the gun-men are killed off.

We are not worrying about them, but we shall always insist that the citizen who goes about his business has the right to know that his life and property are safe.

LETTERS From the People

STILL GOING.

Davenport, Iowa.
Aug. 25, 1924

TO THE NEWS:

I believe I told you of my trip as far as Joplin, Mo., in my last letter. Well after breaking camp at Joplin we pulled out for Kansas City, Mo., which according to the guide book we carried (and which up to this point was correct) was 46 miles due North by way of what is known as the K. C. short line, well it proved to be 175 miles not counting the detours and instead of getting in there at 10 a. m. as we figured we arrived at 5 p. m. So my Seth Thomas Solinger watch said. Anyhow we got in too late to do any shopping, as we intended to get Harry Jr. a Boy Scout outfit and of course boy like he was disappointed.

Well it looked as if it was going to rain so after paying our respects to W. H. B., the Sweeney Automotive and Electric Co. Broadcasting Station (and it is a fine one) we started for Chillicothe, Mo., as we were told that part of the road between Kansas City and there would be impassable if it rained much. Well we kept mulching on as the Alaska sledge drivers say until we reached Chillicothe at midnight just as it begun raining, this was Thursday so we made it from Joplin to K. C. 175 miles, K. C. to Chillicothe 97 miles total 273 miles that day.

Just outside of Kansas City about 25 miles we stopped and visited a Boy Scout camp which proved to be Troop No. 1 of Spring Hill, Kansas. Scoutmaster Jewell a Presbyterian minister in charge. They were enjoying a swim in the little Blue River and of course as you know we always go prepared with "Scat Skeet" and bathing suits so after a pleasant hour and thirty minutes with the boys we continued on to K. C.

Put me down as saying that of all the roads I have ever traveled the roads of Missouri are the best kept and if they were hard surfaced and given one-tenth the attention they are given Missouri would have the record, but there was very little paved roads traveled by us through the state but they were in such good condition due to the close attention as I stated that we swung along and reached the Eastern boundary just as the Sun went down we crossed the Mississippi River at Hannibal, Mo., and continued North by way of Quincy, Illinois to Keokuk, Iowa, which we reachedat 10:30 Friday night, making three states we traveled till day.

We re-crossed the big river out of Illinois into Iowa over the great dam which is the only dam of the Mississippi River below St. Paul, Minn., There is an immence hydro-electric plant erected in Keokuk which gets its power from the waters dammed here.

Will tell you of my trip into Davenport in my next letter.

Luck, Love and best wishes from
Your friend,
HARRY A. PORTER.

CONVENTION MAY BE ANTI "MA" BUT LAW SAYS THAT IT MUST RATIFY HER NOMINATION JUST THE SAME

Tom Love's resignation as National Committeeman has set tongues a wagging all over Texas and according to local citizens places a new aspect on the political situation in the State. His statement that he cannot support the Democratic nominee in the November election comes as a blow to those who have already gotten in the Ferguson band wagon and pledged her their support in the general election. At the same time, his statement, no doubt, is in accord with ideas held by many old time Democrats who voted for Mrs. Ferguson in the second primary and who did so believing that there would be a way out of the dilemma before November. The suggestion of an independent candidate will likely be pursued and a new path opened for voters to follow. The State Convention at Austin early next week will furnish another interesting chapter in the gubernatorial contest.

Limestone County will have an anti-Ferguson delegation there when the big fight comes.

In the State convention of last May, Limestone delegates were almost without exception for McAdoo, but it is doubtful if the list of delegates this time consists of as many Ferguson votes as one has fingers on one hand.

It is understood that the Ferguson forces in the county re active, however, in seeking proxies of delegates in order to make a good showing at Austin and to carry the delegation their way if possible.

Quite a number of the delegates have signified their intention of going. The county has nine votes in the state convention and the instructions as to how all matters that are presented to the body for action.

The delegation will be headed by W. P. Alexander of Prairie Hill, Democratic nominee for the legislature from this county.

Bob Hardy, Sam Thomas, Bob Lide, J. E. Fredrick and other prominent Democrats are not on the list of delegates, however, they will be on hand, and in the second primary, old Limestone will roll up an overwhelming majority for Miriam Ferguson.

Early reports indicate that the State Convention is "Not For Ma," yet it may be that this will change before the time for the Ferguson supporters and sympathizers in all counties, except those to speak from over the State, and the Anti-Ferguson men and women may give up their votes, feeling that they have been defeated at the polls.

The convention, it is declared, will assert, not only its declaration that Miriam Ferguson is the nominee of the Democratic party, and should it fail to do so, mandamus proceedings may be expected to compel such action.

For the benefit of those unfamiliar with the law on the subject, the following extracts are quoted:

"Article 3139. The state convention shall canvass the vote cast in the entire state for each candidate for each state office as shown by the statement thereof presented to it by the state committee, and shall declare the candidate for each state office who has received a majority of votes cast for all candidates for such office. . . The nominee for the party for such office; and the chairman and the secretary of the state convention shall forthwith certify all such nominations to the secretary of state.

"Article 3113. Any executive committee or committeeman or primary election officer or other persons herein charged with any duty relative to the holding the primary election or the canvassing, determination or declaration of the results thereof, may be compelled by mandamus to perform the same in accordance with the provisions of this title."

MAIN BUILDING OF COTTON MILL IS BIG AFFAIR

The building site of the Mexia Textile Mills is attracting many visitors daily at present, as the foundation work progresses and the dimensions of the huge structure is shown. Many have expressed surprise at the magnitude of the mill. Scores of workmen are now busy at the grounds south of the city limits and below the ball park. The side track is loaded with cars that are stacked high with material for the industry.

Students of Mexia schools are getting busy preparing for the new session which will open in all local schools the eighth of September. Some of the teachers are expected the latter part of this and the early part of next week.

Rev. Aubrey Home After Vacation

Rev. and Mrs. V. K. Aubrey and baby have returned from their vacation which was spent in visiting relatives at Denison, Wolfe City, and Houston and state that they are glad to be back home again. Sunday School and the regular preaching service will be held at the morning hour.

All the people of the congregation are urged to attend and join in prayer for Divine guidance and blessing in the fall program for the church. No evening services Sunday.

Rev. Aubrey stated that one of the striking impressions of the trip was the cleanliness and beauty of the city of Houston. The people of Houston are very ambitious for the growth and development of their city and are showing a remarkable spirit of progress and enterprize. Situated on the ship channel many great industries are building there to get the advantage of the direct contact with ocean bound traffic. One of the interesting experiences was a visit on a boat from Spain which was preparing to return with a load of cotton.

ATHENS, Aug. 29.—United Press A majority of the amunition stores in the naval arsenal exploded this morning. There are many victims.

ANY OLD EXCUSE.

PORT ARTHUR, Aug. 29.—Pinched for speeding, a Port Arthur man pleaded toothache as an alibi, unsuccessfully. Judge Shivers, before whom the case was tried, listened sympathetically.

"I've had the toothache myself" the judge admitted. "I know how it hurts but the law's the law. Dollar and costs."

A very interesting prayer meeting service was held at the Methodist church Wednesday night. The pastor, Rev. W. B. Andrews discussed the final of a series of prayer meeting studies on the crucifixion and resurrection of the Savior.

The work on paving the allays is going forward rapidly at present and within a few days, it is expected that the base will be laid for the pavement.

New Use For Moonshine Beer

PORT ARTHUR, Aug. 28.—Long grasping tentacles or hands which enforce the 18th amendment have now reached out, clutched tantalizingly, and become enmeshed in the bobbed hair question, according to a woman arrested here on a booze charge.

Eight gallons of beer, grading about 9 per cent alcohol, were found in the woman's house. Asked why so much of the product, the woman surprised the biase minions of law and order with a brand new booze alibi.

"You mean what was I doing with that beer? Why I sell that to beauty parlors for putting permanent waves in bobbed hair."

THE FAST LIFE

The best description we have seen of our intoxicated American life with its wealth, automobiles and mad rush, is given by Stray Wolfe, an Oklahoma Indian who had gotten rich in oil, in describing his experience with a big new car.

He bought an expensive automobile and soon had an accident on the public highway. Limping and somewhat bruised, he came into the local sales room, carrying a pocketful of money.

He wanted another car and explained the loss of his original purchase in this way:

"Drive out big red car. Buy Moonshine. Take drink. Step on gas, trees and fence go by. Pretty soon big bridge come down road. Turn out let bridge go by. Bong! Car gone. Gimme 'nother."—Christian Advocate.

Money Was No Object — Then

DALLAS, Aug. 29.—Judge Royall Watson had an opportunity to "clean up" but declined when a nervous bridegroom handed him a twenty dollar bill for performing the marriage ceremony.

"You'd better keep that, son," Judge Watson advised. "Your wife might need it some time."

Fishing around in his pocket, the bridegroom substituted a team of one dollars bills for the fee, grinned bashfully, and the couple slipped out.

BUT NOT SO WITH BOBBED HAIR

FORT WORTH, Aug. 29.—Styles in trimming beards in Texas are immune to inovations from Paris, according to Fort Worth barbers. Van Dykes, waxes, and other freaks in style are allowed to pass unnoticed. The barbers find their customers prefer the beard in its natural state—rough and untutored.

FRIED EGGS JEAN GRANIER.

PARIS, Aug. 28.—At the "Hard-Boiled Egg," a picturesque restaurant in a suburb of Paris which has been named the "Montmartre of the country," one of the specialties is "Oeufs durs frits" or "Fried Eggs Jeanne Granier."

Line the pan with chopped cooked onions and season with curry. Break the eggs into this and bake in the oven.

Garnish with little medallions of brains browned in butter. Sauté with the eggs were mixed with chopped onions.

CHEESE FRITTERS.

PARIS, Aug. 28.—For cheese fritters put in a saucepan one pint of water, a large piece of butter, salt, a little red and pepper. When it first boils add one-fourth pound of flour and one tablespoonful of grated gruyere cheese.

Work this paste until it reaches from the sides. Remove from the fire and add three or four eggs, one at a time, and a little ham cut in small pieces. Grease all the while.

Drop a spoonful of the batter into boiling fat, and cook to put the spoon each time into the fat to keep the batter from sticking to it.

Remove the fritters when well browned, to a platter. Serve with meat or alone.

MELON A LA PARISIENNE.

PARIS, Aug. 29.—Summer time brings cantaloupe in for hors d'oeuvre.

For melon a la Parisienne cut out a large cover with a very sharp knife. Take out the seedsand cut into pieces as uniform as possible. Powder the pulp well with sugar and put some in the center of the melon. Press the pieces together and put on the cover. Cool for at least an hour before serving.

To vary this manner add to the sweetened pulp one or two spoonsful of kirsch or rhum or any other liquor.

HOME DRESSMAKING

By JEANNE ROLAND
(Copyright 1924 by Pen-Art Service, Inc.)

Details Vary Youthful Frocks

One-Piece Model with Smart New Touches

Fashion dictates the continuance of the straightline frock for girls and juniors, but sometimes varies it almost beyond recognition. A tucked apron tunic, embroidery and slashed front do much to transfer this model.

One could name at least a dozen materials in which this dress could be developed and express the last word in style. To be practical, stylish and inexpensive, however, nothing is to be more highly recommended than French serge—in dark blue, cranberry red or russet.

The sleeves are of the kimono style, cut in one with the front and back. The addition of an apron tunic gives the dress the appearance of having the skirt attached to the waist under a narrow belt of self-material. This is not the case, however, and the tunic may be omitted, if preferred.

The embroidery about the round neck is executed in padded satin and darning stitch, both of which are exceedingly easy to make. To develop the padded satin stitch (Fig. I), first follow the outline of the design with very small stitches. Then pad with uneven basting stitches, working in the opposite direction from the way the design will be finished. When the padding is finished, carry the thread entirely across the motif, as illustrated. The stitches may take either a straight or slanting direction.

The darning stitch is hardly more than the running stitch of plain sewing. Be sure to make the stitches longer on the reverse side than on the right. If the design calls for much darning-stitch embroidery, however, variety may be given to the embroidery by varying the length of the stitches.

The embroidery also appears at either corner of the tunic above the tucks. Instead of tucks stitched bands may be used, as they are easier to make, and also may be of contrasting material.

This dress would make a semi-dressy design for Fall and Winter, carried out in heavy silk crepe de chine or in silk alpaca. The front is slashed for the purpose of accommodating the straight tie of ribbon velvet. Quite as effective a treatment would be the extension of the embroidery half-way down to the waistline to simulate a vestee.

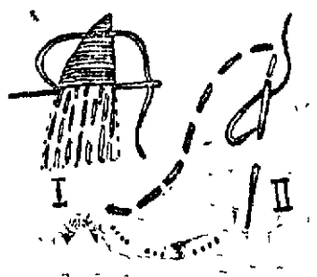

Fig. I—Padded Satin Stitch.
Fig. II—Darning Stitch.

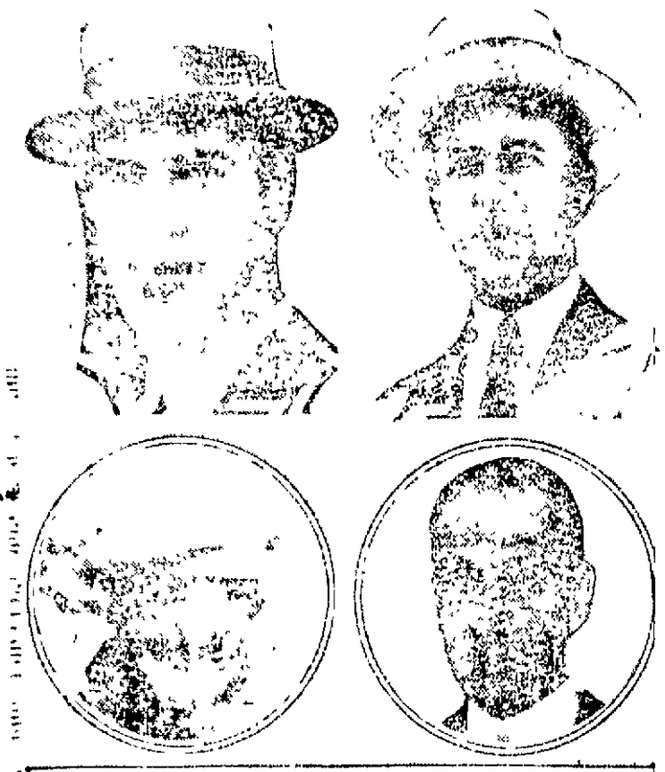
CHIEF FIGURES IN NEWS OF THE DAY.



Rufus B. Dawes, multi-millionaire Chicago oil magnate, brother of General Charles G. Dawes, Vice-Presidential candidate and the man who, with Owen D. Young, drew up the reparations agreement, is on his way to France. It is suggested that he will become the Agent General of the Reparations Payments. Edward O Leader, former athletic star of the University of Washington, who took a demoralized Yale crew and in two years turned out the world's champion Olympic eight, has signed a new five-year contract to coach the Blue teams. Jack Kearns, Jack Dempsey's man Friday, had followed his chief into a Los Angeles hospital to have his nose straightened. Miss Abby Rockefeller, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., whose suspended sentence on a second conviction of speeding caused a sensation in New York City police courts, has returned from Europe, silent on the episode.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH.

The pastor, W. B. Andrews, will preach at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Does your neighbor go to church? Ask him why. Tell him about that part of the service that you enjoy. Remember that the services of the sanctuary are for worship and not entertainment.

The Sunday School and League will meet at 9:45 a. m., and at 3 and 4 p. m.

W. M. Society meets at 4 p. m., Monday.

The prayer meeting on Wednesday night at 8 o'clock should be an event in your life because it is the hour for Bible study and prayer.

The President of Westminster College and other College officials are interested in putting on a bus between Mexia and the college each morning and afternoon to carry resident students here to that institution next year. The bus has been plying between Coolidge and Westminster for the past two years and two cars will be required this year. The college is classified as a first rate Junior college institution and the putting on of the bus, it is pointed out, would enable some boys and girls of Mexia to get a College education who otherwise would probably lose the opportunity. Those interested in the subject are urged to see any of the college officials at Tehuacana or C. L. Lewis of this city.

GERMAN REICHSTAG HAS RATIFIED PACT OF LONDON

BITTER DEBATE PRECEDES ACT OF GERMAN OFFICIALS

BERLIN, Aug. 29.—The pact of London was ratified by the Reichstag. After a long and bitter debate the Germart government mustered 314 votes, more than the necessary two thirds majority, for all important railway laws, in the Dawes-Young program for reparations payments, and thereby accepted the whole arrangements. Other clauses of the program had already been accepted, and the new reparations program now awaits only the formal signatures which would be affixed by the interested powers at London tomorrow.

Dr. Jackson Agrees To Take A Ride In Pat's Wheel Barrow

Dr. R. B. Jackson is expected to call on L. S. Patterson Saturday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock, at which time the good old wheel barrow will be wheeled out of the store on East Commerce Street and the physician will be favored with a free ride up and down the principal business blocks of Mexia. Dr. Jackson has signified his willingness to take the ride and Mr. Patterson has given his word that he will do all he can to look after the safety of the passenger, despite the attack of lumbago with which he has been seized since election day. The event is to attract a big crowd. Much interest has been exhibited since Mr. Patterson agreed to ride him in case Mrs. Miriam Ferguson was nominated in the primaries of last Saturday.

PLANES PERFECT WHEN WEATHER CLEARS FOR HOP OFF

Aboard the U. S. S. Richmond, Aug. 29.—New engines of their giant planes tuned to perfection, the two American around the world aviators now are awaiting for favorable weather before hopping from Ivigtut, Greenland, for Indian Harbor.

It is probable the airmen will span the distance between the Island and North America tomorrow. They are now waiting arrival and passage of the gale which has swept up from the Maine coast. The storm spent its force here Thursday and proceeded northward. It probably will strike Ivigtut sometime today. In the calm after the terrific rain and wind has subsided, the airmen plan to strike out for Labrador.

Fair weathere is predicted along the Labrador coast today and the weateer report from the course which the fliers will follow is favorable for the flight. However, the fliers fear the weather at Ivigtut and late last night sent a message to Admiral Magruder saying the flight today had been definitely called off.

JULY GASOLINE TAX AMOUNTED TO $361,950

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 29.—Collections of the gasoline tax in July totaled $361,950, and that amount has been paid into the State Treasury. One-fourth of the amount goes to the school fund and the remainder to the credit of the State Highway Department. The general revenue fund, which is at a low ebb, is not affected by the deposit of gasoline tax money.

The larger companies paying the tax are Gulf Refining Company, 9,716,973 gallons, $97,169; Magnolia, 7,008,089 gallons, $70,080; the Texas Company, 6,800,980 gallons, $68,009; Pierce Petroleum, 3,184,000 gallons, $31,840; Humble, 1,525,554 gallons, $15,255; Cities Service, 1,410,670 gallons, $14,106.

Americans Go On Raving Because the Prince Can Smile

By CHARLES W. SUTTON.
(Written For The United Press)
(Copright By United Press)

ABOARD THE BERENGARIA, NEARING NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Eyes straining into the distance toward New York, the Prince of Wales stood at the rail on the upper deck of the Berengaria today impatient to set foot on American soil and rub elbows with the people of whom he has many pleasant memories.

The Prince was up comparatively early, despite the fact he did not go to bed until long past midnight and greeted friends with his usual cheery smile.

It is warm on the Berengaria last night and H. R. H. thought the ballroom too hot, so hewalked the deck with Lord and Lady Louise Mountbatten, singing songs to them.

He disappeared after a time but returned to the lounge at 2:15 a. m. and listened to Grace Larue, who was singing songs. The Prince was an appreciative listener and stayed until Miss Larue drifted away from the piano.

Wales seems to enjoy these informal occasions far more than any official function and falls into him his role of a regular fellow without effort.

The Prince is in the pink of condition thanks to his active life on shipboard. He walks with a springy step and his wonderful smile could spring only from a man with sound nerves and sturdy good health.

The Prince of Wales smile in fact, has become the talk of Americans on the ship.

"It's nothing short of wonderful," a wonderful passenger said. "Of course we all love him."

Wales has amazed the Americans by his activity outdoing the best of them. He usually is out by 8 a. m. despite the fact he often does not retire before 3 and has joined in every activity on the ship from boxing to learned discussions on political and social problems.

All this has pleased the Americans immensely.

Yesterday evening the Prince received his brother Free Masons from the second class and chatted with them for some time. Later he presented a decoration to First Officer W. Poole.

E. R. H. went down in the engine rooms yesterday morning. Cald in a thick sweater, despite the high temperatures near the boilers. He was soon steaming with perspiration but paid no attention to that, walking through every section and talking with the men.

Wales had a long discussion on refrigeration engineering with John Reid, the engineers in charge and then talked with Firemen John Leigh.

Leigh asked how the Prince liked te ship and Wales wiped perspiration from his brow as he replied:

All the "black gang," as the sailors call the engine room force was greatly impressed with the visit.

"A regular fellow and not a bit of swnk," One fireman voted, while

"You know he's a bit of all right, another thought out his description: for he speaks to you just the same whether you have on a clean suit or a dirty one."

The Prince ttended the boxing matches in the afternoon, laughing heartily at a battle royal where blindfolded youngsters were hammering away at one another. He went swimming before dinner and regretted it might be his last plunge before leaving the Berengaria.

As the big liner neared New York today the Prince described the voyage as a tremendous success," nd said he may return to England on her.

He is looking forward to just one thing today, however and that is "seeing my American friends again."

THERE IS HOPE FOR THE DEMOCRATS OF TEXAS SAYS JIM RERGUSON REPLYING TO ATTACK OF THOS. B. LOVE

TEMPLE, Texas, Aug. 29.—"Praise God from whom all blessings flow. There is hope for the Democrats of Texas."

This was the comment of former Governor James E. Ferguson here today upon the attack of Thomas B. Love against the candidacy of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, his wife, and Love's withdrawal as democratic national committeeman from Texas.

"The attack upon my wife's candidacy, secured in an entirely legitimate manner, is due to personal animosity against me", the former governor declared. Ferguson refused to comment further, saying he would probably issue a statement later to that of the retiring national committeeman.

"FORGET IT" PARTY TO REMEMBER AND PLAN FOR AUSTIN CONVENTION; 20,000 EXPECTED AT BIG RALLY

TEMPLE, Texas, Aug. 29.—Temple is making preparations to entertain 20,000 democrats from all parts of the state tonight in a monster ratification and "forget it" rally for Mrs. Miriam Ferguson. Mrs. Ferguson will be the first speaker on the program. "Farmer Jim" and Barry Miller, nominee for lieutenant governor are also on the program. Many of the leaders will remain over for a caucus Saturday, when preliminaries for the state convention at Austin next Tuesday will be worked out.

It is expected that several Limestone County citizens will attend the "Forget It Party" to be held in Temple tonight. However, none from here has signified his intention to be there on that occasion.

Special trains will run from Dallas to Temple for the occasion and hundreds of admirers will be there to jollify with "Ma" and "Pa Too," following the landslide of votes last Saturday in her favor in the gubernatorial campaign.

Mrs. Ferguson has indicated that she will deliver a brief address and Jim Ferguson will also be the feature speaker on the program.

Killers' Lawyers Plan New Fight

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—If Chief Justice John R. Caverly imposes the death sentence on Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold for their murder of Bobby Franks, the defense will start a new fight to save the youths from death, it was reevaled today. Preliminary plans are being made now.

The State's Attorney's office also is completing plans to ward off the defense in the event of a death sentence.

There are three methods for the defense to stage a fight to snatch the youths from the gallows. Samuel Ettleson, for seven years corporation counsel for Chicago and personal counsel for Jacob Franks, father of the little victim, explained to the United Press.

1. The defense can ask for a jury to pass on the sanity of the youths on the grounds that they have become insane during or since the trial and sentence.

2. Appeal to the State Supreme Court to set aside the ruling of the lower court on the grounds of error.

3. Appeal to the governor for commutation of sentence.

State's Attorney Crowe said if Judge Caverly orders life in jail for the boys the State could do nothing about it.

THE LONE STAR SERIES

By HECK

Sure looks like I am forced to change my figures and my pick of the winner of the Lone Star Series now that the Tyler Trojans have walloped our Oilers two straight games which gives Kitchen's crew a decided advantage of the series. I watched the game Thursday from the scorers box and I want to make it plain that Tyler has a real ball club and what is more they are playing a brand of baseball that we did not see in the Texas Association the past season. Naturally the Trojans looked good because they were the winners and the winning ball club always looks better than the losing side but Kitchens and Jackson have the Tyler club playing the finest brand of "heads up" baseball that I have had the pleasure of seeing in class D. The Oilers had many opportunities to win Thursday but the necessary base hit was minus or some over zealous Oiler would get trapped by the foxy Trojan defense and that was many times. Kitchens has three pitchers working on the side lines through out the game and he changes pitchers without waiting for any damage to be done and in this manner keeps the Oilers batting against fresh and new pitching which counts heavily in a short series of this kind. Lefty Yowell, the Trojans star moundsman, opened the game yesterday and while a bit wild had a world of stuff but after being nicked for four blows in the fourth he was replaced by Andrews a right hander with a splendid curve and control who went along in great style until the ninth when the first Oiler batsman hit for two bases. Here Kitchens showed his plan of play when he pulled Andrews for Porter, another right hander who had a great curve, control and blinding speed and he stopped the Oilers before they could start a rally and the game was won. Byers, the Oiler's catcher, threw away a scoring chance in the eighth frame when he was caught off second by a great throw from Donaldson, the Trojan left fielder and again in the ninth with two runners on the bases and one out Longnecker, the Trojan shortstop, leaped high into the air and pulled down Malmquist's drive and doubled Thornton off second. They tell me that this boy Longnecker makes lots of errors and I guess he does but he covers every play between third base and center field and pulls the hard and brilliant plays that stops a rally and ruins many a batting average. The Trojans are a hard hitting club and their record in this respect is not overdrawn and along with their hitting power they are fast as sure base runners.

oJe Cantrell deserved to win Thursday's game and had his mates used better judgment of the bases the result would have been in his favor. The Oilers played the same sterling brand of baseball in the field that was expected of them and in this respect they are much better than the Trojans and while Grubb, Sain and Malquist are not of the brilliant and flashy kind like Williams, Longnecker and Allen, the Oiler trio is steadier and are at their best in the pinches. Old George Jackson plays rings around Thornton, the Oiler first baseman and in his work at first base the Trojans have a decided advantage. The Trojan style of play at first base is the best I have seen in class D in that Jackson plays wide and deep from the back and the pitchers take a great number of plays for the putouts at first base and this gives Jackson the opportunity to ruin those base hits that so often filter between second and first bases. The Trojans fight like wildcats when they are on the defensive, their entire infield shifts about on each play and every base is backed up by at least two players on throws to bases and on throws from the outfield to the plate Kitchens stands on the plate while the first and third basemen and pitcher come in to protect the wide throw and this one plan of play kept the Oilers from one and perhaps two runs in Thursday's game. After watching the two clubs in action I consider them evenly matched in fielding with Tyler getting the breaks in the two games played. The Oilers are due to win and when they do they will be just as hard to head as the Trojans are now and I look for Munns to win Saturday's game at Tyler and Crockett to give some one a grand battle Sunday. The umpiring in Thursday's game was perfection in every detail and while the Oiler fans razzed Charlie Johnson for his work on balls and strikes his work looked good from the scorers box and the work of the base umpires was never questioned throughout the game. The Oilers should win at least one game at Tyler and thus come back to Corsicana ready to battle the enemy to the finish and in this respect the Oilers are the better club as they have proved that they can come back and win after a losing streak.

AMERICANS ARE TO SUFFER IF CIVIL WAR STARTS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—The cabinet went into executive session with President Coolidge to consider the growing gravity of the Chinese civil situation. Secretary of State Hughes is understood to have presented reports from American representtives in China that war is threatening in Shanghai, Nanking section of China, where there are many Americans. American business is suffering, due to the tie-up of the Shanghai-Peking railway, on account of the trouble.

BULLETIN:
By B. C. BESS.

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SHANGHAI, Aug. 29.—Threats of civil war between rival Chinese leaders grew to serious proportions today.

Gen. Wu Pei Fu, leading one of the factions, announced that he has employed a squadron of airplanes piloted by American and British aviators and that the machines will leave Shanghai for the front during the day.

Meantime Gen. Lu, rival war lord, was doing his utmost to recruit other British and American pilots and it was generally believed airplanes may prove a decisive factor in ehe fighting believed to be imminent.

There had been no actual fighting between the rival armies up to this morning, but travelers arriving from Quinsan where the troops are separated only by a narrow line along the railway, said that hostilities could not long be postponed.

The actual battle line, it was indicated, will be within thirty miles of Shanghai and both leaders will make every effort to gain control of the city.

It is not believed the foreign colony is in danger, however, as a number of British, American and Japanese warships are in the harbor.

One thousand Russians most of them World War veterans, have been enlisted in the Shanghai-Che-Kiang army.

The foreign and Chinese Chamber of Commerce both have brought all pressure to bear to restore peace and today sent envoys to the rival war lords urging them again to attempt to reach an agreement.

American steamers have been warned by Chinese forts that the outbreak of hostilities is imminent.

Martial law was proclaimed yesterday and a censorship established.

Additional American and British warships have been summoned from Chefoo, as it is considered almost certin there will be fighting in the city. There are more than sixty thousand throops in the Quin San District, 30 miles out of Shanghai.

The foreign and Chinese chambers of commerce met together for the first time in history yesterday to plan protection of the city and devise a scheme for creation of a neutral zone.

Thousands of Chinese already are fleeing into the country.

Fleets of the rival leaders both are steaming toward Shanghai one from Foo Chow and one from Nanking. It is believed there may be a naval engagement during the day.

Prince Of Wales Reaches The U. S.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Officially and unofficially welcomed in messages from land, sea and air, the Prince of Wales reached America. The first official word of welcome was wired from President Coolidge an dropped from an airplane as the Berengaria nosed her way into quarantine. A public welcome was impossible as the prince, after acknowledging the official welcomes, arranged to ssume an unofficial holiday and went without ceremony to Long Island in a private launch.

LOVE STATES HE CAN NOT SUPPORT FERGUSON FOR GOVERNOR AND QUITS POST AS NATIONAL COMMITTEEMAN

That he does not intend to support Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson in the November election, but that he hopes to be able to support for Governor "some able, honest and incorruptible Texan running as an independent Democrat," are declarations contained in a statement issued Thursday by the Hon. Thomas B. Love of Dallas, Democratic national committeeman from Texas.

Mr. Love also said that during the last few days it had been suggested that he ought to resign his place on the national committee of the party, and added:

"In view of the ccurse which, as an honest man, existing conditions compel me to follow, I am constrained to agree with the propriety of this suggestion. I was elected Democratic national committeeman by the Democratic State convention at Waco for a term of four years and no vacancy can be created in that position during that period except by my resignation, but I believe it to be my duty to vacate the position in view of my inability to support the Democratic nominee for Governor of the State, and I have done so by forwarding my resignation to Chairman Shaver of the Democratic National Committee."

Text of Statement.

Mr. Love's statement in full follows:

I do not intend to support the Ferguson candidacy for Governor in the November election. As a matter of law, I do not believe the Democratic nominee is eligible under our Constitution, but, regardless of that, I can not escape the conviction that it is the duty or every good citizen, regardless of all considerations of party regularity and of all other considerations, to leave nothing undone that legitimately may be done to prevent the restoration of Ferguonism to power in the State Capitol at Austin.

For thirty-five years I have served the Democratic party and so far as receiving or seeking political gain is concerned I have served it unselfishly. While I have never sought an office that I did not get, I have never held one that did not involve distinct financial sacrifices. In all that time I have never placed a pencil mark upon a Democratic ballot and I have never hesitated to make any sacrifice within my power to promote party success. I have always put country above party. I have cherished the Democratic party solely because I regarded it as a blessed, God given instrumentality through which the good citizens might serve the country. But, if I placed party welfare above the public good, even from that viewpoint, I would not hesitate for a moment to follow the course I have determined upon in this campaign, for I am sure that Texas Democrats can render no more effective party service than by fighting Fergusonism to the death, even as our national standard bearer is fighting Fallism to the death.

I earnestly and whole-heartedly desire the success in the national campaign of Davis and Bryan. I am glad that there is no doubt of their carrying Texas in November by an overwhelming majority. They are real Democrats, fearless, clean-minded champions of honesty in public office, of prohibition and woman suffrage and of progressive Democracy —of all those things which Ferguson, while in power opposed. As a Texas Democrat, I am proud that the Texas delegation helped to nominate them in the New York convention. I shall also earnestly and heartily support each and every candidate upon the Democratic State congressional and local tickets, except the candidate for Governor.

For Governor, I earnestly hope to be able to support some able, honest and incorruptible Texan running as an independent Democrat whose character and known capacities and disposition for public service will attract the support of each citizen of Texas, who is opposed to all that Fergusonism stands for, regardless of party or creed, and whose opposition to the Ku Klux Klan is wholly beyond question, so that that issue will no longer complicate the situation. However, regardless of party alignments, present or past, I shall not hesitate to support any candidate on any ticket,or if his name has to be writeenon the ticket, who is worthy and qualified, whose candidacy in my best judgment offers the best assurance of keeping the banner of Fergusonism off the battlements of the State Capitol at Austin.

We have it from the leading newspapers of the Nation, including The Dallas News, that the Ku Klux Klan is dead as a result of last Saturday's primaries, and personally I can have no doubt that the people of Texas will never again witness a candidacy for any State office proposed and sponsored by the Ku Klux Klan. Many thousands Texans, among them many of the best personal and political friends I have, have sincerely believed that this klan menace was more dangerous even than Fergusonism. While I have outspokenly opposed the klan from the beginning, my own belief has been that Ferguson was ten times a greater menace than ku kluxism. Whatever may have been right, happily the danger of ku klux domination of the State Government, if it ever existed, is now gone. It remains for all good citizens, forgetting the past, to unite in destroying Fergusonism.

In this cause the good citizen who voted for Ferguson to destroy ku kluxism in last Saturday's primaries can join hands and fight shoulder to shoulder to save the good name of Texas, with the good citizen who voted for Robertson to destroy Fergusonism.

Not Bound by Pledge.

No man or woman is bound to support any party nominee whose election he believes would endanger the public welfare. The precedents supporting this proposition are too numerous to leave room for doubt as to its soundness. It is only necessary to mention the fact that thousands of those who supported the Ferguson candidacy in last Saturday's primaries, including many of the leaders for Ferguson in the fight, in 1922 refused to support the Democratic nominee for United States Senator chosen by the primaries in which they had participated as notoriously did Jim Ferguson himself because they believed that his election would endanger the public welfare. I thought then and think now that in their premises they were wrong, but I never found fault with them or criticised them for voting against a candidate whose election they believed would be dangerous to the public welfare without regard to consideration of party regularity and the party pledges they had made. Believing as they did, they were undoubtedly right in the position they took as were the great newspapers of the State which followed the same course.

During the last few days it has been suggested that I ought to resign as Democratic national committee man from Texas and in view of the course which, as an honest man, existing conditions compel me to follow, I am constrained to agree with the propriaty of this suggestion, I was elected Democratic national committeeman by the Democratic State convention at Waco for a term of four years and no vacancy can be created in that position during that period except by my resignation, but I believe it to be my duty to vacate the position in view of my inability to support the Democratic nominee for Governor of the State, and I have done so by forwarding my resignation to Chairman Shaver of the Democratic National Committee.

I am gratcful for the privilege I have enjoyed of representing the Democracy of Texas on the Democratic National Committee for the last five years, and I am glad of the opportunity now as a private in the ranks to fight for the good name of Texas to the extent of my humble ability.

STANDING

Tyler	2	2	0	1,000
Corsicana	2	0	2	.000

CORSICANA, Texas, Aug. 28.—Tyler holds a commanding lead in the Lone Star series after taking the second straight game from the Corsicana champions of the Texas Association on their own grounds. Thursday's 5 to 3 victory was again the product of the healthy home run hit, Najo and Donaldson hitting for the circuit for the victors, while Lovelace got his second in two days for Corsicana. Five pitchers were used by the two clubs. Corsicana outhit Tyler, but four of the six Trojan blows were for extra bases.

Poor Base Running Costly

Poor base running by the Corsicana Oilers, smarter baseball by the Trojans and brilliant defense in the pinches enabled the proteges of Manager Kitchens of the East Texas champions to humiliate the Oilers. With the loss of the game, the hopes of the Oilers for the all-Texas pennant took a decided slump and the hopes of four straight victories by the Trojans is entertained in the East Texas city.

Son Barrett of Corsicana played a whale of a game, but Manager Kitchens demonstrated that he is the premiere Class D manager of Tex— by the manner in which he ran his club.

The Oilers had two or three chances to win the game, but they were plucked off the bases like peaches from an East Texas tree by the Trojans.

Two Double Plays Help

Two sensational double plays aided the Trojan cause.

In the fifth inning, Barrett was plucked off first base by Andrews with only one out. Lovelace had opened the inning by driving out his home run, and Barrett had connected with long single. In the ninth inning, Longnecker caught a terrific drive and doubled Byers off at second in a sensational play. Longnecker played the best game of the entire two clubs.

The two teams will have an off day Friday and the scene of hostilities will be shifted to the East Texas city Saturday in the first of two games there. It is probable that Manager Vann will send Crockett against the Trojans in the first game. Crockett was sold to San Francisco a few days ago.

C. E. Johnson umpired at the plate, Ollie Anderson cared for first. L. H. Johnston guarded second base and Fred Robins was the authority at third.

Whole Family Endorses Tanlac As Best Tonic

"Tanlac has been our constant friend for years, and my wife and myself and eight children are all enjoying wonderful health, largely due to this medicine," is the remarkable statement of Harry H. Pistole, 310 Archer St., Waco, Texas.

"In my own case Tanlac has done what seemed to be impossible. When I began taking it my stomach was in such a bad fix that I had to live on a milk and egg diet and I was almost a skeleton, I had been flat of my bck in bed and under treatment for 18 months and felt that my time was about up.

"After my case had been given up as hopeless and I thought I was beyond redemption a relative put me onto Tanlac, and the result is, I gained 20 pounds, and enjoy as good health as anybody could wish.

"My wife was all broken down in health. But now she weighs 155 pounds, and is strong and well and I am giving Tanlac credit for it. We give Tanlac to the children to tone them up and make them grow, and nobody ever had a healthier set of children than we have.

"Tanlac is certainly the greatest medicine on earth for anyone whose life is wrecked by bad health. We sure do have a great deal to praise Tanlac for at my house."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

Eubanks Delivers Address At Meet Of Rotary Heads

At the conference of Rotarian officials held in Forth Worth Thursday and Friday of this week, A. Hardy Eubanks, President of the Mexia Rotary Club, discussed the proper use of the emblem and the affect of Rotary on International Business. His address was well received. It follows:

Mr. Chairman and Fellow Rotarians:

I have been requested to talk to you today upon a subject that should be, and doubtless is, of greatest interest to you all.

I am sorry, indeed, that I am not bettter equiped with learned phrases and analytical argument that I might better bring to your notice the wonderful meaning that is encompased with the three short words of our motto.

"SERVICE ABOVE SELF." What a story those three words tell to those who realize their meaning. I have never heard a phrase or a motto, or a slogan that appeared to tell the whole story of life's greatest aim, as applied to ethical business methods, as those words tell it.

They are full of good, and they are capable of being translated into helpfulness to every person in every walk of life. engaged in every business activity.

That motto stands for truth, for the humanities, for progress and everything else that means emancipation from the thrall of selfishness and envy and the petty jealousies of business life.

It is, therefore, both proper and desirable that the subject you have chosen for me to talk upon today be discussed among ourselves, lest in our efforts to propagate our ideals, we commercialize our motto, our slogans and our principles.

Rotary was not organized for the purpose alone of getting business. It was not discovered for the purpose of fostering clannishness in a business way, and neither was it made to grow with a view to selfishness that would redound to the benefit of its order alone. Rotary is as high in its principles as the sky above, and as broad as the universe, and as full of love for humanity as Heaven itself.

Rotary is big enough in its principles to take in every business activity in the world, and its mottoes are as applicable to those businesses outside the order as it is to those represented by its membership.

Just how far we, as members of Rotary, should go in advertising by emblems, as evidenced upon our stationery, our store doors, and on our automobiles, is a question that to my mind needs careful consideration. On the other hand, as to how far we should go in applying the real underlying principles of our organization on to our business activities and individual dealings with each other, in my opinion there is no limit.

The foundation of Rotary was placed solidly and upon a high plane. It was placed there so that those, and only those with the very highest regards for its ethical code would be attracted by it and would be eligible to its membership. Therefore, any action upon the part of any member to commercialize unduly his connection with this great organization, to the exclusion of its true ideals should not only be discouraged but unquestionably condemned.

I do not mean by this to say that we, as members, should be afraid to show our colors, or that we should feel a hesitancy in approaching each other in a business deal, for fear that our meaning be misanderstood.

I believe that it is not only right, but desirable, to foster and encourage the spirit that breeds confidence in each other. I believe that it is eminently proper and ethical to place upon our windows a modest, but plainly visible emblem of our order, (the greatest of its kind in the world).

When, as a stranger, we drop into a town, there is nothing quite so assuring as our emblem standing forth in its significant beauty upon the front of some successful business. It says to us who know it "welcome," we are mighty glad to see you." Come in make yourself at home and what can we do for you."

While I do not, as I have said before, believe that we should commercialize our emblem, I DO believe that it is eminently fitting that we should encourage and welcome any business that may come to us through our association with Rotary.

I say with pride that I have been benefited in many business deals. I honestly believe, through the fact that my connection with Rotary, and reverence for its Code of Ethics, has placed me favorably before those with whom it has been my pleasure to deal. He who would take undue advantage of a fellow business man, either in or out of our organization, is not a true Rotarian.

I personally am never affronted at the use of an emblem by a brother Rotarian upon his stationery, but I do not use it and do not think that much good can come from it. Since a great deal of correspondence is of promiscuous nature, and goes to so many non-members, I believe that the indiscriminate use of the emblem upon stationery seems to leave the impression that we are bidding our insignia to the world for its notice.

This is precisely what we wish to avoid. Rotarians should be brought to notice for WHAT THEY DO and any incidental business that is thus brought to them should be welcomed.

I take the position that our connection with Rotary should in no wise entitle us to the assumption that we are the superiors of others who do not belong. I take no airs upon myself for being a Rotarian, though I am very proud to be one. I do not consider membership in our Club to be a social aim to be fought for as a business prize. I take it as a special privilege that must be paid for by strict adherence to its principles. and the amount of service rendered.

Therefore, any act of unseemliness, anything that would belittle the order in the pubilc's eye, is to be condemned, for just so long as we keep our organization membership up to the original standard of requirements, it will continue to rgow.

The man who keeps shouting from the housetops in print and pictures that I AM A ROTARIAN, and does nothing else to prove it is a detriment to this order. But the man who takes a proper modest pride in his membership and guards it by right deportment so that he is noticed of all with whom he comes in contact, is absolutely entitled to all business that is brought to him through the channels of Rotary, and should feel no tinge of shame in taking it.

When I read about the splendid spirit which prompted the idea of our organization, and when I read and learn how in such a few short years it has penetrated into every activity in the remotest parts of the world, I feel a sort of pride in my membership that nothing else gives me.

I feel that eventually through Rotary such a spirit of friendship may be built up that it will be large factor toward universal peace between all nations. Every day the question of international commerce becomes more complex. Less and less do we live alone. In fostering closer business relations between leading business men in every line the world over, Rotary goes a long way in establishing a feeling of universal neighborliness. For this reason then, I would say that the utmost care should be used in the display of our emblems and use of our slogans and mottoes. We do not want to leave the impression that we hold them so lightly that we would barter them.

We, as a cog in our wonderful wheel, should feel eager to be known as a part of the world's greatest organization of the kind. We should be eager to spread the propaganda of "Service Above Self" where we go, but we should always do it in such a manner as would never reflect upon our great order nor leave the impression that because of our connection with Rotary we are, or assume to be, in any way superior to those who do not belong.

All the world is watching Rotary. Secretly every business man is emulating our example, though many would not admit this, so that when the time comes he too, may become one of us.

I do not say this in a spirit of braggadocio. Our example appeals to all high class men in business and it is but natural that they should be drawn to us.

The very moment though that our order permits commercialization of its emblems, its slogans, or its mottoes by consenting to the exploiting of them promiscuously by too aggressive advertising, just then will our influence begin to wane and our organization to lose its prestige. I thank you.

"For Mexia, I WILL"

FAITH IN THE UNIVERSAL SOVEREIGN

Texas has just passed through one of the hardest fought political battles in all her history. After the din of the bitter tumult has died away and while men and women are mobolizing their plans and their purposes to build a greater state, our citizens must continue to let wisdom direct their feet in the paths of duty.

As to the question of natural personal rights, no rule can be set forth other than that of the Golden Rule. Texans feel and the Decalogue teaches them that they have certain rights with reference to other men which ought to be respected.

The merits of party controversies are not always decided at polls anymore than the merits of national difficulties and differences are settled on the gory fields of war. Men must do the best they can, remembering always and at all times that there is yet a God who governs, and Christianity and civilization are saved from the power and number of Infidelity and Paganism by measures and movements unseen to us; and that the general history of the world containing the history of contests between and among parties which have eventuated in the ultimate success of the good over the bad, is an evidence of the truth of Divine Providence.

"Present success is no touchstone to determine which nation is right in battle. The first Napoleon said God was on the side of the best guns."

Napoleon was wrong if he meant to say that God was on the side that won the victory. He was usually triumphant and thought he could defy God. He would have done better to have waited till the hour of death in his exile.

Men have been known to change their politics to be on the successful side. This was evident in the day of Napoleon. A French editor of the Paris Moniteur recorded the progress of Napoleon from Elba to Paris as follows:

"The anthropophagist has escaped," "The Corsican Orge has landed," "The tiger is coming," "The monster has slept at Grenoble," "The tyrant has arrived at Lyons," "The usurper has been seen in the environs of Paris," "Bonaparte advances toward, but will never enter the capital." Then when Napoleon was in the shadow of the city, the editor changed his editorial tactics, cut out all his epithets that he had been hurling as a sort of defy in his face and wrote "Napoleon will be under our ramparts tomorrow" and then recorded his advent under "His Imperial Majesty entered the Tuileries on the 21st of March in the midst of his faithful subjects."

In this hour, at the conclusion of a political upheaval in Texas, let every man and woman, whether on the winning or losing side, resolve here and now to be better citizens in the future than they have in the past, pinning a greater faith than ever in Him of Whom it is said on our coins "In God We Trust," with a firm conviction all the while that there is no such thing in human history and human progress as chance. All events, as all the Universe moves along the pathway of one intelligent design and no dispensation of Providence moves at random.

It is inspiring to see a citizen standing among what appears to be clashing discords and sweeping contradictions, calm and confident, with a forward look in his eye and love for his fellow man and his great state tempering every thought and softening every utterances.

"Revolutions may rage; nations may tear into shreds existing governments, and out of the fragments weave new ones; the chariot of God's providence with its whirlwind, clouds and fires may roll over the plains and mountain tops, shake the world and shiver the foundatins of all human institutions; yet his towering faith raises its head into eteranl sunshine, grasps the hand of God, and leans against the celestial throne. His brightest hopes may lie dismantled at his feet—every golden thread dissevered, yet though a tear trembles down his cheek, he lifts his eye to heaven and says, "It is all for the best." Creation careening may topple its planets into chaos, and the grand old arches of the universe may come crashing down, the roar of its fragments astounding hell into frightened silence; yet his faith lies as unshaken as the Mount of God upon which his Father sits a universal sovereign in the Heaven of Heavens."

OUR TOO MANY MURDERS

Congressman Luther Johnson stated before the Rotarians Thursday that in England defendants in criminal cases are usually found guilty while in America they are usually found innocent. The results of such decisions are detrimental to society generally. Andrew D. White is quoted as saying that there are 10,000 people in America alive today who will be murdered this year.

In the past few years, Limestone and Freestone counties have seen a low estimate placed on human life and there have been murders in large number. Human life is endangered as a result. Yet when have you read of the extreme penalty being given for murder in these counties?

In ten years, it is asserted, more Americans have been murdered than were killed in action or died of wounds in both army and navy in our two years in the World War.

As to accidents, if you want to call them that, it has been announced that during the first six months of this year 810 Americans were killed by automobiles.

Our homicide record is a very striking and deplorable one. Fortunately not all the killings are as deplorable as others.

There is one class in which belong such detestable crime as the killing of the tourist in the camp at West Liberty, the boy Franks in Chicago, and the double murder at Low Mo that is just now in the news dispatches again; and there is an other class such as the killings growing out of the racial and political feuds in Chicago and the clashes of rum-runners there.

In the former classification, the public has the right to complete protection against killers, both by the maintenance of efficient police forces and by the prompt and firm administration of justice in our courts.

But in the latter cases it is merely one gun-man killing another, and it is small loss which is killed; in fact, innocent bystanders are safer when the gun-men are killed off.

We are not worrying about them, but we shall always insist that the citizen who goes about his business has the right to know that his life and property are safe.

LETTERS From the People

STILL GOING.

Davenport, Iowa.
Aug. 25, 1924

TO THE NEWS:

I believe I told you of my trip as far as Joplin, Mo., in my last letter. Well after breaking camp at Joplin we pulled out for Kansas City, Mo., which according to the guide book we carried (and which up to this point was correct) was 46 miles due North by way of what is known as the K. C. short line, well it proved to be 175 miles not counting the detours and instead of getting in there at 10 a. m. as we figured we arrived at 5 p. m. So my Seth Thomas Solinger watch said. Anyhow we got in too late to do any shopping, as we intended to get Harry Jr. a Boy Scout outfit and of course boy like he was disappointed.

Well it looked as if it was going to rain so after paying our respects to W. H. B., the Sweeney Automotive and Electric Co. Broadcasting Station (and it is a fine one) we started for Chillicothe, Mo., as we were told that part of the road between Kansas City and there would be impassable if it rained much. Well we kept mulching on as the Alaska sledge drivers say until we reached Chillicothe at midnight just as it begun raining, this was Thursday so we made it from Joplin to K. C. 175 miles, K. C. to Chillicothe 97 miles total 273 miles that day.

Just outside of Kansas City about 25 miles we stopped and visited a Boy Scout camp which proved to be Troop No. 1 of Spring Hill, Kansas. Scoutmaster Jewell a Presbyterian minister in charge. They were enjoying a swim in the little Blue River and of course as you know we always go prepared with "Scat Skeet" and bathing suits so after a pleasant hour and thirty minutes with the boys we continued on to K. C.

Put me down as saying that of all the roads I have ever traveled the roads of Missouri are the best kept and if they were hard surfaced and given one-tenth the attention they are given Missouri would have the record, but there was very little paved roads traveled by us through the state but they were in such good condition due to the close attention as I stated that we swung along and reached the Eastern boundary just as the Sun went down we crossed the Mississippi River at Hannibal, Mo., and continued North by way of Quincy, Illinois to Keokuk, Iowa, which we reachedat 10:30 Friday night, making three states we traveled till day.

We re-crossed the big river out of Illinois into Iowa over the great dam which is the only dam of the Mississippi River below St. Paul, Minn., There is an immence hydro-electric plant erected in Keokuk which gets its power from the waters dammed here.

Will tell you of my trip into Davenport in my next letter.

Luck, Love and best wishes from
Your friend,
HARRY A. PORTER.

CONVENTION MAY BE ANTI "MA" BUT LAW SAYS THAT IT MUST RATIFY HER NOMINATION JUST THE SAME

Tom Love's resignation as National Committeeman has set tongues a wagging all over Texas and according to local citizens places a new aspect on the political situation in the State. His statement that he cannot support the Democratic nominee in the November election comes as a blow to those who have already gotten in the Ferguson band wagon and pledged her their support in the general election. At the same time, his statement, no doubt, is in accord with ideas held by many old time Democrats who voted for Mrs. Ferguson in the second primary and who did so believing that there would be a way out of the dilemna before November. The suggestion of an independent candidate will likely be pursued and a new path opened for voters to follow. The State Convention at Austin early next week will furnish another interesting chapter in the gubernatorial contest.

Limestone County will have an anti-Ferguson delegation there when the big fight comes.

In the State convention of last May, Limestone delegates were almost without exception for McAdoo, but it is doubtful if the list of delegates this time consists of as many Ferguson votes as one has fingers on one hand.

It is understood that the Ferguson forces in the county re active, however, in seeking proxies of delegates in order to make a good showing at Austin and to carry the delegation their way if possible.

Quite a number of the delegates have signified their intention of going. The county has nine votes in the state convention and the instructions are to vote as a unit on all matters that are presented to the body for action.

The delegation will be headed by W. P. Alexander of Prairie Hill, Democratic nominees of the legislature from this county.

Bob Hannah, Sam Thomas, Bob Liles, J. E. Bradley and other prominent Ferguson supporters are not on the list of delegates, however, they were on the winning side in the second primary of last Saturday when Limestone County went overwhelmingly for Mrs. Miriam Ferguson.

Early reports indicates that the State Convention is "Not For Ma," yet it may be that this will change before next Tuesday, as Ferguson supporters are seeking proxies in all counties, according to reports from over the State, and the Anti Ferguson men and women may give up their votes, feeling that they have been defeated at the polls.

The convention, legal advisers assert, must under law declare Mrs. Miriam Ferguson the nominee of the democratic party, and shiuld it fail to do so, mandamus proceedings may be expected to compel such action.

For the benefit of those unfamiliar with the law on the subject, the following extracts are quoted:

"Article 3139. The state convention shall canvass the vote cast in the entire state for each candidate for each state office as shown by the statement thereof presented to it by the state committee, and shall declare the candidate for each state office who has received a majority of votes cast for all candidates for such office. . . The nominee for the party for such office; and the chairman and the secretary of the state convention shall forthwith certify all such nominations to the secretary of state.

"Article 3143. Any executive committee or committeeman or primary election offiier or other persons herein charged with any duty relative to the holding the primary election or the canvassing, determination or declaration of the results thereof, may be compelled by mandamus to perform the same in accordance with the provisions of this title."

The building site of the Mexia Textile Mills is attracting many visitors daily at present, as the foundation work progresses and the dimensions of the huge structure is shown. Many have expressed surprise at the magnitude of the mill. Scores of workmen are now busy at the grounds south of the city limits and below the ball park. The side track is loaded with cars that are stacked high with material for the industry.

Students of Mexia schools are getting busy preparing for the new session which will open in all local schools the eighth of September. Some of the teachers are expected the latter part of this and the early part of next week.

Rev. Aubrey Home After Vacation

Rev. and Mrs. V. K. Aubrey and baby have returned from their vacation which was spent in visiting relatives at Denison, Wolfe City, and Houston and state that they are glad to be back home again. Sunday School and the regular preaching service will be held at the morning hour.

All the people of the congregation are urged to attend and join in prayer for Divine guidance and blessing in the fall program for the church. No evening services Sunday.

Rev. Aubrey stated that one of the striking impressions of the trip was the cleanliness and beauty of the city of Houston. The people of Houston are very ambitious for the growth and development of their city and are showing a remarkable spirit of progress and enterprize. Situated on the ship channel many great industries are building there to get the advantage of the direct contact with ocean bound traffic. One of the interesting experiences was a visit on a boat from Spain which was preparing to return with a load of cotton.

New Use For Moonshine Beer

PORT ARTHUR, Aug. 28.—Long grasping tentacles on hands which enforce the 18th amendment have now reached out, clutched tantalizingly, and become emmeshed in the bobbed hair question, according to a woman arrested here on a booze charge.

Eight gallons of beer, grading about 9 per cent alcohol, were found in the woman's house. Asked why so much of the product, the woman surprised the blase minions of law and order with a brand new booze alibi.

"You mean what was I doing with that beer? Why I sell that to beauty parlors for putting permanent waves in bobbed hair."

THE FAST LIFE

The best description we have seen of our intoxicated American life with its wealth, automobiles and mad rush, is given by Stray Wolfe, an Oklahoma Indian who had gotten rich in oil, in describing his experience with a big new car.

He bought an expensive automobile and soon had an accident on the public highway. Limping and somewhat bruised, he came into the local sales room, carrying a pocketful of money.

He wanted another car and explained the loss of his original purchase in this way:

"Drive out big red car. Buy Moonshine. Take drink. Step on gas, trees and fence go by. Pretty soon big bridge come down road. Turn out let bridge go by. Bong! Car gone. Gimme 'nother."—Christian Advocate.

Money Was No Object — Then

DALLAS, Aug. 29.—Judge Royall Watson had an opportunity to "clean up"; but declined when a nervous bridegroom handed him a twenty dollar bill for performing the marriage ceremony.

"You'd better keep that, son," Judge Watson advised. "Your wife might need it some time."

Fishing around in his pocket, the bridegroom substituted a team of one dollars bills for the fee, grinned bashfully, and the couple slipped out.

BUT NOT SO
WITH BOBBED HAIR

FORT WORTH, Aug. 29.—Styles in trimming beards in Texas are immune to inovations from Paris, according to Fort Worth barbers. Van Dykes, waxes, and other freaks in style are allowed to pass unnoticed. The barbers find their customers prefer the beard in its natural states—rough and untutored.

FRIED EGGS JEAN GRANIER.

PARIS, Aug. 28.—At the "Hard-Boiled Egg," a picturesque restaurant in a suburb of Paris which has been named the "Montmartre of the country," one of the specialties is "Oeufs sur le plat," or "Fried Eggs Jeanne Granier."

Line the pan with chopped cooked onions and season with curry. Break the eggs into this and bake in the oven.

Garnish with little escallops of brains browned in butter. Surround with the curry sauce mixed with chopped onions.

CHEESE FRITERS.

PARIS, Aug. 28.—For cheese fritters put into a casserole one and one-half pints of water, a large piece of butter, with a little salt and pepper. When it first boils up add one-fourth pound dof flour and one-half as much of grated gruyere cheese.

Work this paste until it etaches from the casserole. Remove from the fire and add three or four eggs one after the other and a little ham cut into small pieces, stirring all the while.

Drop a spoonful of the batter into boiling fat, taking care to put the spoon into cold water before taking up the batter in order to avoid sticking.

Remove the fritters, when well browned, to oiled paper. Serve with meat or alone.

MELON A LA PARISIENNE.

PARIS, Aug. 29.—Summer time brings cantaloupe in for hors d'oeuvre.

For melon a la Parisienne cut out a large cover with a very sharp knife. Take out the seedsand cut into pieces as uniform as possible. Powder the pulp well with sugar and put some in the center of the melon. Press the pieces together and put on the cover. Cool for at least an hour before serving.

To vary this manner add to the sweetened pulp one or two spoonsful of kirsch or rhum or any other liquor.

HOME DRESSMAKING

By JEANNE ROLAND
(Copyright 1924 by Pen-Art Service, Inc.)

Details Very Youthful Frocks

One-Piece Model with Smart New Touches

Fashion dictates the continuance of the straightline frock for girls and juniors, but sometimes varies it almost beyond recognition. A tucked apron tunic, embroidery and slashed front do much to transfer this model.

One could name at least a dozen materials in which this dress could be developed and express the last word in style. To be practical, stylish and inexpensive, however, nothing is to be more highly recommended than French serge—in dark blue, cranberry red or russet.

The sleeves are of the kimono style, cut in one with the front and back. The addition of an apron tunic gives the dress the appearance of having the skirt attached to the waist under a narrow belt of self-material. This is not the case, however, and the tunic may be omitted, if preferred.

The embroidery about the round neck is executed in padded satin and darning stitch, both of which are exceedingly easy to make. To develop the padded satin stitch (Fig. I), first follow the outline of the design with very small stitches. Then pad with uneven basting stitches, working in the opposite direction from the way the design will be finished. When the padding is finished, carry the thread entirely across the motif, as illustrated. The stitches may take either a straight or slanting direction.

The darning stitch is hardly more than the running stitch of plain sewing. Be sure to make the stitches longer on the reverse side than on the right. If the design calls for much darning-stitch embroidery, however, variety may be given to the embroidery by varying the length of the stitches.

The embroidery also appears at either corner of the tunic, above the tucks. Instead of tucks stitched bands may be used, as they are easier to make, and also may be of contrasting material.

This dress would make a semi-dressy design for Fall and Winter, carried out in heavy silk crepe de chine or in silk alpaca. The front is slashed for the purpose of accommodating the straight tie of ribbon velvet. Quite as effective a treatment would be the extension of the embroidery half-way down to the waistline to simulate a vestee.

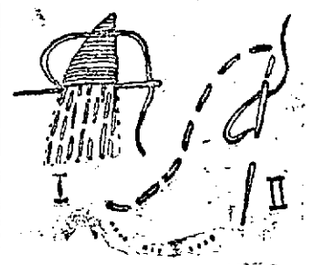

Fig. I.—Padded Satin Stitch.
Fig. II.—Darning Stitch.

CHIEF FIGURES IN NEWS OF THE DAY.

Below: ABBY ROCKEFELLER & RUFUS C. DAWES.

Rufus B. Dawes, multi-millionaire Chicago oil magnate, brother of General Charles G. Dawes, Vice-Presidential candidate and the man who, with Owen D. Young, drew up the reparations agreement, is on his way to France. It is suggested that he will become the Agent General of the Reparations Payments. Edward O. Leader, former athletic star of the University of Washington, who took a demoralized Yale crew and in two years turned out the world's champion Olympic eight, has signed a new five-year contract to coach the Blue teams. Jack Kearns, Jack Dempsey's man Friday, had followed his chief into a Los Angeles hospital to have his nose straightened. Miss Abby Rockefeller, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., whose suspended sentence on a second conviction of speeding caused a sensation in New York City police courts, has returned from Europe, silent on the episode.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH.

The pastor, W. B. Andrews, will preach at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Does your neighbor go to church? Ask him why. Tell him about that part of the service that you enjoy. Remember that the services of the sanctuary are for worship and not entertainment.

The Sunday School and League will meet at 9:45 a. m., and at 3 and 4 p. m.

W. M. Society meets at 4 p. m., Monday.

The prayer meeting on Wednesday night at 8 o'clock should be an event in your life because it is the hour for Bible study and prayer.

The President of Westminster College and other College officials are interested in putting on a bus between Mexia and the college each morning and afternoon to carry resident students here to that institution next year. The bus has been plying between Coolidge and Westminster for the past two years and two cars will be required this year. The college is classified as a first rate Junior college institution and the putting on of the bus, it is pointed out, would enable some boys and girls of Mexia to get a College education who otherwise would probably lose the opportunity. Those interested in the subject are urged to see any of the college officials at Tehuacana or C. L. Lewis of this city.
